Tallyra Money: Brand Guidelines

Version 2.0, November 2026. Demo document. Tallyra Money is fictional.

About Tallyra

Tallyra Money is a savings and payments app. Money is a serious topic, so every post must be clear, honest and calm. These rules apply to all posts, ads and partner content.

Voice and tone

Be calm and clear. Never use urgency or pressure, such as 'act now', 'join now', 'hurry', 'offer ends tonight' or 'last chance'.

Use at most one exclamation mark in a post, and never write words in ALL CAPS for emphasis. Offer codes are the only exception.

Names, prices and hashtags

Always write our names exactly as Tallyra, Tallyra Save and Tallyra Card. Never write Talyra, TallyRa or Tallyra Money Card.

Write amounts with the rupee symbol and no space, for example ₹100. Never write Rs. or INR.

Every Instagram post must include the hashtag #MoneyWithTallyra.

On LinkedIn, use at most one emoji per post.

Financial claims

Never promise returns. Never use the words guaranteed, risk-free, zero risk or 'double your money'.

Every interest rate, cashback percentage, bonus amount and user number must match an approved fact exactly.

Cashback must always be described as 'up to' the approved percentage.

Never say Tallyra is 'RBI approved' or 'government backed'. Only describe deposit insurance in the approved words.

Never compare Tallyra with banks or other apps, and never call Tallyra the best.

Any post that mentions mutual funds or a SIP must include: 'Mutual fund investments are subject to market risks, read all scheme related documents carefully.'

Every offer, bonus or cashback post must match an active approved offer and must say 'T&C; apply'.

Partners and confidential work

Every paid or partner post must start with #ad or 'Paid partnership'.

Never mention internal project names or unreleased features in any post.